

System for tracking, calculating, and awarding variable credit for a learning activity

Berkshire AHEC will award variable credit if it is absolutely necessary for a learner to leave early. The time that the learner left the training is documented and then that credit is calculated based on time attended and the certificate is sent out by mail to the learner after the activity. Full credit certificates are distributed by hand at the end of the training when a learner exchanges their evaluation for their certificate and confirms their identity.